Biannual Newsletter from the Office of Assessment

Fall 2025 Volume 5

Welcome back!

We hope you had a wonderful summer and are looking forward to a great fall semester. In this issue you'll find snapshots of the inaugural Excellence in Academic Program Assessment Award winners, registration links for Xitracs refresher sessions, and assessment resources to guide you as you complete your LOA report. As always, the Office of Assessment is here to provide additional support, resources, or professional development. Feel free to connect with us.

Sincerely,

Katie & Deenene

From Vision to Evidence: Building a Coherent Program Assessment Approach

This interactive workshop equips program coordinators and faculty leaders with the essential knowledge and practical tools needed to design, implement, and sustain effective program-level assessment practice. Participants will learn to create (or revise) meaningful program-level learning outcomes, select appropriate assessment measures, and engage their entire program faculty in the assessment process. Through hands-on activities and collaborative discussions, attendees will develop actionable strategies for demonstrating and improving student learning at the program level. This workshop will be led by your Office of Assessment staff, Dr. Katie Burr and Deenene Brewer.

Excellence in Program Assessment Inaugural Award Winners

More than 70 programs self-nominated during the 2024 LOA reporting period. The six programs selected to receive this award stood out for their demonstration of a strong assessment culture. From measures aligned with student learning outcomes and rooted in meaningful data collection to evidence of intentional faculty collaboration, their assessment processes illustrated a commitment to continuous improvement through revising outcomes, updating goals, and analyzing student performance.

Reminder: Program Learning Outcomes Assessment reports are due in Xitracs on October 1, 2025.

Assessing Institutional Competencies

By now, you're aware that courses are being approved to meet the Institutional Competencies, which will be displayed on students' Comprehensive Learner Record starting this fall. Our team will lead a multi-method assessment approach (shown here) to ensure students meet the learning outcomes. This includes collecting direct and indirect data from students and instructors at the course level and institutional level. If you teach a competency-approved course, stay tuned for more communication from the Office of Assessment!
